

Big Bay Bioblitz– Be a scientist for a day!

Join us for a reptile and amphibian-focused bioblitz on July 4th at Keppel Croft Gardens!

A bioblitz is an effort to identify as many species as possible in a specified area in a specified time period, usually 24 hours. Our bioblitz will focus on reptile and amphibian species and will last for 1 hour only.

Ontario Nature volunteers will introduce event participants to the reptiles and amphibians found in the Big Bay area as well as to the Ontario Reptile and Amphibian Atlas, a super-cool citizen science initiative.

This short talk will be followed by a trip into the wild in search of secretive snakes, fascinating frogs and other critters.

Event details

Saturday, July 4, 1:00 p.m – 2:00 p.m.

Keppel Croft Gardens, 504156 Grey Road 1, Big Bay (Meet in the parking lot.)

This event is weather permitting. Call (519) 470 -4004 the morning of July 4th to confirm it is happening.

This event is FREE and open to all, however there is a $3 admission fee per person for the garden

Contact Ryan Lauzon for more information at ryanjlauzon@gmail.com

Learn more about the Ontario Reptile and Amphibian Atlas: ontarionature.org/atlas